Loulé is a traditional Portuguese market town. Its boastful and characterful historic centre, lively market and traditional Portuguese atmosphere attracts visitors year on year keeping the town a bustling hub. Loulé's focal point is the Arabian inspired covered market, with stalls selling fresh produce and regional handicrafts. Surrounding the market are shopping streets, tree-lined plazas and a warren of alleys, which have barely been altered since the medieval period. Loulé is the venue for one of the region's most emblematic summer festivals, the MED Festival, inspired by Mediterranean culture. A short 5 minute drive out of Loulé takes you into stunning hillside scenery, tranquil villages and award-winning vineyards. Faro airport and the popular beaches of the central Algarve are no more than a 15-minute drive from Loulé.
